Instructions to run the code:

1. Open the command prompt and change the directory to the folder containing the jupyter notebook. Make sure the images are in the same folder

2. Type jupyter notebook in the command prompt. A window will open in the browser. Open ipython notebook.

3. Click on 'Kernel' and then click on 'Restart and Run All'.

4. All the cells in the file will run. The information related to to the outputs is written in the notebook itself.